Jesuit Refugee Service

JRS UK provides vital practical and pastoral support to over 300 refugees and asylum seekers across Greater London, and outreach and support to people held in immigration detention. On 25th April, the so-called 'Safety of Rwanda (Asylum and Immigration) Bill' received Royal Assent and became an Act of Parliament. This new legislation, and the Rwanda Plan as a whole, is dangerous. Not only does it present numerous human rights concerns, but it shirks the UK's responsibility towards refugees. JRS UK continue to comment and campaign against this cruel scheme. On top of the fear of possibly being forcibly removed to Rwanda, people seeking sanctuary in the UK continue to face so many other challenges, some of which we discuss in this edition of Together.

The ongoing conflict in Sudan has forcibly displaced nearly 9 million people making it the most severe displacement crisis globally. Though the crisis has faded from headlines, the horrendous humanitarian situation persists, with protection, education, (mental) health support, and shelter urgently required. We will continue to walk with refugees. Or sometimes run – as was the case last month when more than twenty amazing supporters, including one of our refugee friends, took on the London Marathon to raise vital funds for JRS UK.

One of the greatest challenges faced by the people supported by JRS UK is the lack of accommodation. Destitute asylum seekers are often forced to seek rest on night buses, rely on friends who might let them 'sofa surf' for a night or two, or else find a nook where they can sleep for the night. The JRS UK 'At Home' hosting scheme matches destitute asylum seekers with individuals, families, parishes, and religious communities who are able and willing to offer short term accommodation. The JRS UK Legal Project has now been running for just over 5 years. Over that period, with support from the Jesuits, trusts, and your donations we have expanded our team's capacity to four people (three full time equivalents) providing free specialist advice and representation to refugees who are registered with JRS. Poor provision of legal services means that people seeking asylum in the UK are often unable to find a good quality solicitor to help guide them through the complexities and the hostility of the asylum system. This can have a real detrimental impact on people's asylum cases – and asylum seekers can experience years of prolonged destitution and legal limbo as a result.
